

Love At First Night Chapter 41

Chapter 41

Judith's smile was less bitter and the hatred in her eyes somehow faded. She said with a wry voice. "Adam, I'm fine. I really am. Let's go on looking for a place! School will start in two months. There isn't much time left for us to settle down on everything related to the kids' schooling. All kinds of documents are required in the relevant procedure. Usually, kids go to school near their places. So, we have to find a place with a school nearby. Though it's more expensive, it will be easier for my mom to pick up the kids." "Alright, as you wish! Let's go then!" Adam said with a smile. He suddenly saw a bubble tea shop at the roadside. Adam glanced at Judith and gave her a crafty smile. "Judy, treat me to a cup of iced bubble tea. What we had just now was too salty." "Sure. Let's go in and take a look." Judith's mood gradually lightened. After going into the bubble tea shop, both Adam and Judith chose a flavor they liked. There were some stickers of yellow smiling faces available at the counter. On a whim, Adam put one on Judith's fair forehead. Adam smiled at Judith. His handsome face was always soothing. Adam was tall and slender. His body was well-proportioned. He was stylish and even his low profile haircut looked elegantly unique. Adam could always stand out from the crowds. Looking at Judith's refreshing smiling face, Adam said, "Judy, from now on, you should be as happy as it looks." "Got it!" Judith drew a smiling face in the air with her finger. What happened today was an exception. Judith wouldn't be easily upset anymore. The two employees in the bubble tea shop looked at Adam and Judith enviously. They were such a perfect match! Adam and Judith slowly walked out of the bubble tea shop under the envious gaze of the two employees. As the breeze blew by, Judith's beautiful hair drifted back and forth, making her face hazy under her hair. On Judith's exquisitely made-up face, a pair of beautiful eyes, as bright as stars, was smiling. "Adam, the iced drink is refreshing! But the bubble tea doesn't taste so good." Judith had her mood under control. Judith smiled gently as usual. "Yep, kind of. But I never drank bubble tea before I met you. Now bubble tea has taken over my life. Judy, why don't you take over my life as well?" Adam said half-jokingly. Adam thought the bubble tea was rather good, only less savory than what he usually had. Judith rolled her eyes at him. "Adam, you can't make fun of that. How can I take over your life? It's your future wife's job!" When Adam heard this, he felt upset. Judith could only see him as a friend and family, but not a lover. No matter how straightforward Adam was, Judith wouldn't take it seriously. What on earth should he do? "Adam, there's an agency here. Let's go and see if there's anything suitable." Judith took a sip of the bubble tea, pointed over, and walked to the agency. As Judith and Adam got closer, they found that the glass wall was covered with photos, prices, and positions of the apartments. Adam and Judith took a glance, yet none of those apartments was suitable. But it was just the first agency they had ever gone to, so Judith was not discouraged. Judith and Adam kept looking for a suitable place until after 10 at night, but they could not find one. Some were too far while some were on the wrong floors. Judith had to take the apartment seriously. She couldn't be sloppy about it. Judith was also happy to have a place of her own. She had always been dreaming of settling down all these years.

Wearing the stilettos, Judith couldn't walk any longer. She was starving as well. So Adam and Judith only went back after they had something to eat.

Chapter 42

The next day was Saturday, and Judith planned to get up at nine o'clock. She would then have breakfast and go on looking for a suitable place. Yet Judith forgot to turn off the alarm clock and thus woke up at eight. Judith had to get up. After washing up, she changed into a set of sportswear and was going to jog for an hour in the morning. Judith wouldn't get fat even if she ate a lot. But once she got time, she would still go jogging. In her spare time, Judith would get trained in combat sports as well, to strengthen her body. Judith was healthier than she had been seven years ago. When Judith was in Kimshire, on the weekend, she would take her three kids to do morning exercise along with her mother. Those were the good old days that Judith would never forget. When Judith was going downstairs, her phone rang.

Judith saw the caller ID. She smiled happily at once. Answering the phone, Judith said, "Mom!" "Judy, I thought you would sleep late on weekends." Judith couldn't help but chuckle. She complained a little, "I was going to sleep late, but I forgot to turn off the alarm clock. So, now I'm going out jogging." "It's good to exercise more. You have to take good care of yourself since you are in Mayfield alone! Don't worry about Lucas and Emily. They're doing well! Alissa took Eric again today for some special event. You don't need to worry about them. You can take your time looking for a place. I still have some savings. If you don't have enough money for a good location, I can back you up." When Judith heard this, she was moved. "Mom, how can I let you pay? I've got some savings and shares over the years. I should be able to buy a place for five." "What are you talking about? You are my baby girl. I will always back you up. Judy, listen to me. People don't spend much money at my age. You may use my money if you need it. You have to find a place near the school. It will be easier to pick up the kids from school." Judith could tell that her mother was unhappy. She smiled and said, "Mom, if I don't have enough money, I'll let you know." "That's my girl. Take care of yourself. When you find a place, I'll take the three kiddos back." Her mom's loving voice always warmed Judith's heart. The two chatted for a bit more before hanging up. Judith smiled brightly. Anyone could tell her happiness from her face. Judith ran along the river behind the community. There were very few cars on this road and many people were jogging in the morning. Judith had been living in Mayfield for more than ten years. Though she had been away for seven years, she was still familiar with the city. She kept jogging forward with a faint smile. In the crowds, her elegant figure stood out. Frank also had the habit of jogging in the morning. His villa was not far from the company, and he would also jog in the morning on weekends.

To his surprise, Frank met Judith. When Frank recalled that Judith had left without saying goodbye yesterday, his eyes turned cold. Frank tried to ignore Judith, but as he got closer to her, he couldn't help but stop in front of Judith. Judith saw Frank. Having recalled what happened yesterday, Judith's heart beat faster. She looked up at Frank nervously. Frank's face was still as cold as ever. He stared at Judith coldly. Judith was used to Adam's gentleness and friendliness. She was very unaccustomed to Frank, who was as cold as an iceberg. Frank stared at her coldly, making her feel as if she had committed a heinous crime.

Frank did not speak. The atmosphere became very awkward. Judith could not stand the embarrassment. She smiled and said, "Mr. Taylor, are you jogging as well?"

Love At First Night Chapter 43

Chapter 43

To be honest, Judith was quite surprised to see Frank here. She assumed that people like him had their own gym equipment at home, so they did not need to exercise outdoors. “Yes,” Frank replied indifferently.

Somehow, Frank was happy to meet Judith here. He was even a little ecstatic. Last night, he had been thinking about how sad and upset Judith had been the other day and that Adam had comforted her gently. He felt so jealous that he couldn't sleep for the entire night. What was wrong with him? He only met this woman once! Her sad face made him feel agitated. But when he saw Judith this morning, all the negative feelings he had disappeared. He knew where these strange feelings came from. The woman in front of him might have been the girl he had been looking for. He had a very strong feeling. Frank had a lot going on in his mind, but he maintained an indifferent face. His gaze shifted from her face to the mole on the back of her hand. Jodie had a mole in the same place. The morning sunshine was gentle, and a light breeze was blowing. Frank looked even more handsome under the sunshine. Thinking about how she got along well with Adam and how she smiled in front of Adam, Frank suddenly felt a bit annoyed. He said coldly. “Ms. White, I helped you yesterday. How about treating me to breakfast?” When Frank heard what he had said, he was shocked! It was not what he had wanted to say! He had wanted to say goodbye to Judith.

Then, he would walk past her pretending not to care at all. This was his style! However, what had he just done? Judith was stunned. She looked at Frank in surprise. She didn't expect that Frank still remembered what had happened yesterday. However, it was acceptable if she could return the favor by treating him to breakfast. She didn't like owing people favors. She already owed a debt of gratitude to Adam and Alissa. She didn't want to owe Frank anything. Judith smiled and asked politely, “What does Mr. Taylor want to eat?” Frank raised his eyes, looked around, and then looked down at Judith. He said lightly, “Come with me.”

Judith looked at his back helplessly. She had no choice but to follow him. After walking for a long distance, they arrived at a breakfast diner near Fashion Square. According to Judith’s memory, there was no this diner so it wasn’t here until recent years. The two went in and what surprised Judith was that there were many people in the diner and the business was very good! The two customers by the window had just left, and the waiter had already tidied up the table. They sat by the window. Judith took out her phone and scanned the QR code on the table. She looked up and asked Frank, “Mr. Taylor, what do you want to eat?” Frank looked at her and replied, “A sandwich and a cup of milk.” Judith looked down and ordered the food on her phone and got herself an omelet. The food here was expensive, but the decoration was quite good! The moment Judith lowered her head, Frank’s gaze fell on her face involuntarily. Her long eyelashes cast a small area of shadow under her eyes. Judith didn’t wear makeup today but her skin still looked delicate and smooth. Nowadays, there were very few girls who did not put on makeup. She was one of them. She looked even more attractive and charming without makeup To Frank, she looked very like the girl in his memory. He could not even suppress the excitement in his heart.

Love At First Night Chapter 44

Chapter 44

Judith felt Frank’s gaze, and she was very puzzled. Frank seemed to like staring at her. Was there anything on her face?

Well, she didn’t wear makeup today. But she was off work today, so it shouldn’t matter. She looked up and was about to ask about it when the waiter came over with the food they ordered. The food made Judith feel very happy instantly! This omelet was very similar to the one made by her mother. Frank said to the waiter, "Two more glasses of mango juice." "Yes, sir!" The waiter nodded. When Judith heard this, she quickly spoke, "Sorry, Mr. Taylor, I'm allergic to mangoes." Frank suddenly looked at her meaningfully and continued, "Then we'll have pineapple juice." Judith smiled apologetically. "Mr. Taylor, I am also allergic to pineapples. Mr. Taylor, if you want to drink it, just order what you want." Frank was very excited. What a coincidence!

Jodie was also allergic to mangoes and pineapples. Jodie would come out in a rash if she ate pineapples. Mangoes had the same effect. He took a deep breath, suppressed his excitement, and said to the waiter calmly, "Then a cup of strawberry juice and a cup of orange juice." This time, Judith did not refuse. Frank glanced at her and lowered his head to have his breakfast. Strawberries were Jodie's favorite fruits. She would put strawberries into a bowl and enjoy them happily. She liked the sweet and sour taste. Jodie would cross the fence between the two families and bring the strawberries to the lawn outside the villa to eat them with him. The two of them ate silently. Frank was so excited that he did not know what to say. Judith stayed quiet because she had nothing to say to Frank. They were not at work so she didn't want to talk about business. "Frank!" A sweet voice was heard, and Frank frowned slightly. Judith glanced at Ann, who was standing not far away. There was also a noble lady in a light blue luxurious suit standing next to Ann. The lady was Marilyn Lambert, the mother of Ann. Ann and Marilyn were staring at Judith and Frank. Frank did not speak and nodded at Marilyn. E Marilyn didn't intend to leave easily. She smiled and walked to the two of them elegantly. She looked down at Judith, who had her head lowered. Ann followed Marilyn with a sad face. When she saw Judith, anger flashed in her This woman had only been in the company for several days and had already enchanted Frank. Marilyn looked at Judith with disdain in her eyes and said bluntly, “Frank, did you break up the marriage between you and Ann for this young lady?”

Judith instantly became the culprit.

Judith lowered her head. It seemed that it was not her fault that Frank had not attended the banquet. She had happened to get into the company that day. Frank looked at Ann coldly. When Ann met his cold gaze, she panicked. Then, Frank turned to look at Marilyn and said indifferently, “Mrs. Chaney, Ms. White, and I met during the morning run. We are just having breakfast together. I won’t change my mind because of anyone else, so you don’t have to blame any other people for the broken marriage. “As for Ann, if she really wants to marry into the Taylor family, Steve is also a good choice.” There was not any fluctuation in his tone, as if the marriage had nothing to do with him.

Love At First Night Chapter 45

Chapter 45

When Marilyn heard this, her face turned purple with anger. She took a deep look at Judith, who was keeping her head down. Marilyn wondered whether Frank had fallen in love with Judith as Ann said. Unconsciously, the way she looked at Judith became hostile. She had watched Frank grow up and knew clearly that he was very serious about everything! If Jodie was here, she wouldn’t have to arrange for Ann to marry Frank. Steve was a total playboy. . Marrying Steve wouldn’t be a good choice! However, Jodie was still missing. “How I hope that one day Jodie will suddenly appear by my side!” Marilyn thought. Looking at Frank’s cold face, Marilyn thought for a moment before saying earnestly, “Frank, you know that I asked you to marry Ann for a reason. Can you just fulfill my wish?” Frank looked down. He knew what Marilyn meant. After a while, he looked up at Marilyn and smiled. “One day, I will find her and bring her back.” It was a short sentence but filled with the sadness for what he had suffered all these years. Hearing Frank’s words, Ann could not help but tremble. She suddenly realized that Frank would only marry Jodie, not her! She was heartbroken. Her only value to the Chaney family was to marry Frank. If she failed to do so, in the eyes of the Chaney family, she was nothing. “Frank!” Marilyn looked at him with pity. She also wanted to get Jodie back. But it had almost been twenty years. Was there any hope? “Frank, it’s impossible. Don’t be so stubborn.” Marilyn knew about his guilt for Jodie, and she also knew that Frank had been looking for Jodie all these years.

Jodie was lost because of him, but she did not want him to live in guilt for the rest of his life. Finding Jodie in hundreds of millions of people was like looking for a needle in a haystack. How was it possible? Frank did not speak. He looked at Judith and curled his lips into a shining smile. Perhaps Jodie was right in front of them! Marilyn noticed Frank’s gaze and suddenly smiled. “Frank, I still have some matters to deal with in my company. I will arrange to meet with your parents another day to discuss the wedding between you two. I hope you will take it into serious consideration.” After saying that, Marilyn took Ann away. Before they left, Ann glanced at Judith coldly.

At least, before Judith appeared, Frank was neither hostile nor friendly to her, but he did not ignore her.

But now, he did not even want to see her. As to Judith, she did not say anything but buried her head in the food. She was very calm as if she did not care about what Marilyn and Ann had said. But she had kept it in mind. The obvious hostility from Marilyn and Ann made her very uncomfortable!, This kind of coincidence rarely appeared, but it appeared twice on her. It was all related to Ann! Frank looked at her calm face and sat up straight. He smiled and asked, “Is there anything you want to ask?” Judith looked up at his handsome face. He was smiling mischievously. She pursed her lips slightly and said in a moderate speed, “What does Mr. Taylor want to hear?” Ask him if it was because of her that he did not discuss the wedding between him and Ann. Or had she deliberately appeared on the road to seduce him?

Love At First Night Chapter 46

Chapter 46

Frank smiled. He looked down and watched her cutting the sausage into pieces. He said in a clear voice, “Since Ms. White doesn’t have any questions, I have one. May I ask, where is your hometown?” Judith looked at him with doubt. After hesitating for a moment, she asked, “Why would you want to know?” Adam had deleted the records of her address and surname so that the Coopers would not be able to find her. Frank knew the Cooper family. At the moment, he was looking at her leisurely with his deep eyes fixed on her face. Judith found his sharp eyes were quite intimidating. She looked out the window and avoided Frank’s gaze. But even so, she could clearly feel that Frank’s gaze was still on her face. She was quite nervous because of that. “Is it too private?” Frank didn’t intend to let her go.

He could feel that she was nervous when she heard his question.

For ordinary people, this was a very normal question, but for Judith, it was difficult to answer. At least for now, she didn’t want the Cooper family to discover her identity. Judith withdrew her gaze at the window and boldly looked into his eyes. She smiled and spoke calmly, “No. grew up in Mayfield.” Hearing her answer, Frank felt somewhat relieved.

Gary had come back overnight and was already investigating the Cooper family. They would soon find out the identity of the girl who appeared seven years ago. Frank leaned forward a little. Judith could smell a pleasant scent from his body, which was faintly enveloping them. She was a little nervous. Frank didn't smoke and seldom drank. What he did most in his spare time was study. He was also different from those spoiled brats who loved to spend the nights in nightclubs. He would only go to karaoke with the employees after dining together. To all the unmarried girls in Mayfield, Frank was undoubtedly the golden bachelor. “So you are from Mayfield.” Frank wanted to ask more, but he had to stop. He couldn't scare her and ruin everything. He said in a gentle tone as he smiled at her. “Let's eat.” Judith nodded slightly. She was very puzzled by Frank's words and wondered why he asked that. She had eaten very quickly. Every minute with Frank was a torment for her. She had only stayed with him for half an hour, but she felt it was like ages. At this moment, the scene of Eric's piano competition was replayed on the TV. Eric's voice attracted Judith. Looking at Eric's handsome face, she could not help but smile happily. Lucas loved reading and playing on the computer, and Emily liked drawing. She was proud of them! Noticing her smile, Frank also followed her gaze to the TV on the wall. However, the camera had cut to the emcee. Frank withdrew his gaze and looked at her. Seeing that both of them had eaten a lot, he curled his lips in satisfaction and smiled. He felt quite enjoyed in the atmosphere.

Love At First Night Chapter 47

Chapter 47

Frank suddenly asked calmly. “What do you plan to do this weekend?”. Frank wanted to stay with Judith, if possible. Looking at her, his mood was inexplicably good. At the same time, Frank's heart was also tormented. He was urgently waiting for Gary's message. Frank thought, "Gary's work efficiency is getting lower and lower these days." In fact, it was only ten o'clock. Gary had just gotten off the plane not long ago. It was Frank who was too anxious. If Gary, who was so busy at the moment, knew what Frank was thinking, he would definitely scold Frank in his heart. Judith thought for a moment and replied, "I want to look for a suitable house for my family to live in. I want to bring them to Mayfield." "Is it because I suddenly transferred you back to the headquarters?" Frank suddenly felt a little guilty. His deep gaze swept past Judith's smiling and peaceful face. When Judith was at work, she looked capable and experienced. She was always natural and calm. When Judith was off duty and was dressed in casual clothes, she looked pure and lovely! Judith had been living in Kimshire for a long time. Now Frank suddenly asked her to work in Mayfield. It must be difficult for her to adjust. Judith smiled. "It is part of the reason. Also, I grew up in Mayfield. So I will feel more at ease returning to my hometown." The Cooper family was here. Not only did Judith want to take revenge, but she also wanted to find out her background. She was taken away by the Cooper family, and her parents might have been looking for her all these years. "L..." Frank was about to speak when Judith's phone rang. Judith looked at Frank apologetically and got up to answer the phone. The call was from Adam. Judith smiled and asked, "Morning! Adam, have you had breakfast?" From the other end came Adam's lazy voice, "Not yet. We were waiting for you to come over and have breakfast together!" Judith smiled and said, "As soon as I heard your voice, I knew that you must be still in bed. I had already had breakfast. I'm at the Era Plaza. Do you want to come out or do you want me to send you some breakfast? Wait. If I send you the breakfast, it will have gone cold when it reaches your company. It won't taste good then." Adam was instantly elated when he heard that Judith offered to send him breakfast. However, Judith's last sentence made him grit his teeth. "How can you do that to me? You've had your breakfast and you don't care about mine!" Adam's gentle voice was filled with grievance. Judith had known Adam for many years and knew that he would never be angry with her. Judith's tone suddenly became serious. "Adam, if you are tired, you can rest for a day. You can go out with me tomorrow." Judith knew that Adam was very busy at work. "No, I don't want you to go alone. You look too innocent and naïve. I will be distressed if you are cheated. Wait for me at Fashion Square for a while. I will be there soon." Before Judith could answer, Adam hung up the phone. Judith shook her head in resignation. She walked to the table and looked at Frank, who was wearing white sportswear. His slender legs were crossed and he looked elegant and noble. Frank was looking out of the window. Judith smiled politely at Frank. "Mr. Taylor, I'll have to go now. See you on Monday!" "Alright!" Frank nodded indifferently, his handsome face filled with displeasure. When Judith's figure disappeared, the corners of Frank's mouth curled into an evil smile. There were incomprehensible emotions in his eyes. Frank thought, "Judy, if it really is you, then in the future, you can only look at me. I'll be the only man you love." Frank's longing for Judy had long turned into a bone-deep love.

Love At First Night Chapter 48

Frank sat alone in the cafe for a long time and did not leave. The sunlight penetrated through the glass door and reflected on Frank's handsome face.

He looked indifferent and lonely Frank's eyes were slightly narrowed. And it was impossible to tell what he was thinking at this moment. When Frank was at work, he had something to do. On the weekend, he was left alone. There was nothing else but loneliness accompanying him. After sitting for more than an hour, Frank stood up and left with sharp steps. He gripped the phone in his hand tightly, anxiously waiting for Gary's message. Frank had been looking for Judy for so many years. Once there was a woman like Judy, he must find out the truth.

The Taylor family had a great influence in Mayfield. The Taylor family had a lot of wealth and all kinds of advantages to do business. It was difficult not to be a wealthy family Frank left the Taylor Group three years ago and started his own company. In just three years, he had become the most powerful of all the Taylors. Frank shocked the entire business community. Gina had never imagined that Frank could make such achievements. In the past, she had tried her best to suppress Frank's development. Now Frank was out of her control and his company was now more powerful than Carlos's current company. Gina could no longer sit still. She had attacked Frank many times, but Frank survived. The Taylor family had two buildings and the two buildings were not far apart. One of them was Carlo's new company named the Gita Group. The name was what Gina strongly requested after marrying into the Taylor family and giving birth to Steve. Today was the weekend, but Gina and Steve did not rest. To make Steve as outstanding as Frank, Gina would supervise him to learn from business experience. In the bright and majestic president office of the Gita Group. The decoration style of the office showed the high-end image and atmosphere of the company. It was also the exquisite office space for the president to enjoy privately. Steve looked at the situation of the stock market by the computer, Gina walked in from outside.

She was dressed in a red dress and looked noble.

Gina raised her head and looked at Steve. Her sharp eyes softened when she looked at her son. "Steve, come here."

"Mom, you are back." Steve quickly got up and walked over, He smiled and asked, "How is it? Have you arranged everything?" Gina gave a strange smile. A trace of slyness flashed across her elegant face. "There will be a banquet at Minston Hotel in a few days. Frank and Ann will be there. Ann is determined to marry Frank. We will make her wish come true."

"I know you can manage to do whatever you want. It's a pity that seven years ago, that woman went to the wrong room. Otherwise, how could Frank have such achievements today?" Steve had a gloomy expression on his face. Frank had made him almost breathless. Frank ran the clothing company very well. The other businesses that belonged to Frank also gradually surpassed the Gita Group under his management. Gina sneered a few times. She looked out the window coldly. "At least Ann is under our control. Rather than letting other women marry Frank, why don't we find a woman we can control?" Gina's eyes flashed with viciousness. The properties of the Taylor family must belong to them. Frank must disappear.

Love At First Night Chapter 49

Chapter 49

"Mom, I think it's a great idea! So, shall we do that?" Steve said with an evil smile. His eyes glowed with fierceness. But soon, the glint of fierceness faded out in his eyes once Steve thought of his defeats with Frank for so many years This time, Steve felt confident of the result. He must win over Frank. Gina proudly raised her eyebrows and narrowed her eyes. "I heard Frank promoted a girl to be the new design director recently, and he treats her well. Mom met Mrs. Chaney and Ann on her way back to the company. Ann told her that they had breakfast together this morning. " It's odd. Frank always keeps himself away from women. We have to be careful." After that, Steve lost in thought. His eyes narrowed into slits, and suddenly, he sneered, "Ann deliberately told you this. She is clearly driving a wedge between Frank and us.” “Steve, you are wrong. That girl is smart. She knows we want her to marry Frank, so she wants us on her side to hate the new design director.” Gina said lightly. She slit her eyes into shrewdness. The evil smile again appeared on Steve’s face. His pair of almond eyes gleamed with a touch of contempt. “Well, she’s indeed smart. If she was not the adopted daughter of the Taylor family, I would have married her. You know, the Chaney family is prestigious in Mayfield.” Frank always looked intimidating, and people could feel his forceful vibe within three feet. But strangely, Ann fell head over heels in love with Frank. Instead, she turned a cold shoulder to Steve. At the thought of this, an impulse of anger arose in Steve. Steve suddenly had a self-satisfied smirk on his face. When he thought of Frank’s angry and helpless face a few days later, Steve felt exhilarated. Gina gave him a cold glare and said in a sharp voice, “Steve, it doesn’t matter if you say the words in front of me. But you better keep them in this room. An adopted daughter is still a member of the Chaney family. In Mayfield, Ann is still known as the Chaney family’s eldest daughter. They will accept you if you marry Ann, but unfortunately, Ann doesn’t like you at all.” “Mom! I don’t need more insults, okay?” Steve had a displeased expression on his face. Gina’s words stirred a wave of anger inside him. Was there something wrong with Steve? He was charming and loaded. In Steve’s eyes, he was out of Ann’s league, so Ann didn’t get a say. Gina gave a knowing smirk as she looked at her son. Gina’s every move spoke for elegance. “Kid, I’m your mom, so I should be honest with you. You are the future president of Gita Group, so naturally, others will brown nose you. Only your mom will give you a wake-up call. Let’s pack up. We have to go!” Gina got up and walked out with her luxurious handbag. Steve sullenly got up to turn off the computer and packed his stuff. Rows of tall buildings and streams of colorful lights undulated through the city. The sky was wide, dotted with a bright moon and flickering stars. Rows of lampposts lined up the street. The bright light shone through the trees along with the street and cast shadows all over the ground. Judith and Adam rambled along while enjoying the beef skewers in their hands. Judith complained, “Adam, having money to buy a house doesn’t change anything. We have been looking for a house this whole day, but we found nothing suitable so far.”

Love At First Night Chapter 50

Chapter 50

Adam glanced sideways at her with a gentle smile, and his eyes crinkled into a crescent. One wouldn’t notice the cunning hidden behind his smile if they didn’t look closely. “Judy, buying a house is a big deal. We have to choose carefully, and I have asked my friends for help. He will call me once he finds the right offer. Relax! We will find our dream house.”

Adam patted his chest and promised Judith.

Judith pursed her lips and looked at Adam through the eyes of gratitude. “Thank you! Adam, you’ve been with me all day. It must be tough for you, right?”

Adam laughed it off. Unfortunately, Judith was grateful to him, but not out of love. “Why are you laughing?” Judith glared at him. Did she say anything funny? But it had been a long time since Judith saw Adam’s smile in this way. When Adam was at work, he was as cold-blooded as Frank. Adam was determined and had great insight. He had made his company a Kimshire’s business empire just in a few years. But around Judith, Adam acted like a boy who protected his little sister well. Adam reached out his hand and gently wiped the oil stains off Judith’s mouth. “Look at you! You eat like Emily! It’s all over your mouth!” Judith pointed at the skewers in the yellow paper bag and whined, “It’s their faults.” Adam beamed at her. He knew that was the girl she loved, and Judith was cute even she was whining. Judith tilted her head and glared at him. She flipped out and shouted, “Wait, Adam! Are you saying that you dislike me?” Adam was startled by Judith’s roar, and he quickly looked around. They had attracted to the passers-by. People might think there was just another couple who were bickering on the street. “Hey! Won’t you mind keeping your voice down? People might think that I’m bullying you.” “You did bully me, didn’t you?” She raised her eyes to look at Adam, a trace of sadness flashing through her clear and bright eyes. That brought Adam nowhere out. “When did I bully her? Why didn’t I know that?” Adam suddenly stopped. The dazzling light shone on his face, adding more charm to his beautiful outline. He quickly explained, “Judy, I didn’t. When did you become so petty?” “Well! A second ago,” Judith replied to him confidently. Adam snorted and strode forward angrily. Judith widened her eyes in surprise as Adam left. It wasn’t the way she wanted. She chased after Adam and asked, “Why are you angry? When did I piss you off?” “Well! A second ago,” Adam imitated her tone and retorted back. “Hey!” Judith felt humiliated.

“Adam, you are petty. Are you taking revenge on me?” Her eyes moved nimbly, and she was close to tears. Passers-by caught a glimpse at the fighting couple and turned their heads around from time to time. Adam broke out into laughter as he looked into Judith’s eyes, which were shining like a sparkling star, clear like a rippling stream, and pure like sunshine. Sometimes Adam, couldn’t control himself and bullied her. But when he saw Judith’s puppy eyes, Adam didn’t have the heart to do it. “Still laughing?” Judith glared at him. Judith was well-arranged and outstanding at work.

When she was with Adam’s kids, she was gentle and childish. That was the typical Judith. Sometimes, she whined like a baby, and sometimes, she laughed like crazy. She loved to be the authentic Judith. Aright, stop. Finish your skewers! It won’t be good if they get cold later. I’ll pick you up tomorrow morning. Let’s continue after breakfast.” Adam urged.
