Chapter 111

Lucas thought the same. But after he hung up the phone, Lucas looked at Jessica's sketch and felt somewhat frustrated.

Lucas frowned and was just about to light a cigarette to relieve his frustration when Vincent knocked on the door and entered.

Lucas withdrew his hand and looked up at Vincent. "What's the matter?"
"Mr. Thomas, the trending topic about Miss Cheek has been removed. The recording Miss Hall posted and Miss Hall's tweet have been deleted as well."

Lucas paused a bit. That was rare. He pinched the lighter without noticing and the flames burned to his fingertips, causing his fingers to tremble slightly.

After Jessica asked Hannah to remove the trending topic, she also deleted her tweet. The whole thing then slowly calmed down.

Jessica won the piece of land in the north of LA without exceeding the budget. Even Morgan called to praise Jessica, and Megan dared not to say anything.

Then, Jessica became a real celebrity in the company and she was the focus wherever she went.

People had originally thought that Miss Hall was someone incompetent, but now, she had easily defeated Derek and won the piece of land in the north of LA. She was really competent.

And someone said that Jessica only got the land because Lucas and Derek got along. Thus, Derek yielded the land to Jessica.

But so what?

That was for Jessica as well.

Someone knocked on the door, and only then did Jessica retract her gaze and look up. She then saw Wendy, who had entered.

Miss Hall, you have a party tonight. This is the evening dress."

Thank you.”

The Fairbank family held the evening party. They and the Hall family were in the same line of work. Since Jessica got the invitation, she would have to attend the party.

After she received the invitation, Jessica had a dress arranged.

Jessica’s dress was Tomie’s design. It was a customized strapless fishtail Klein blue dress. The color was bright. Not anyone fit into the color. The dress was made of silk satin, and the overall style was simple. Only the fishtail part of the dress was embellished with a few pieces of crystal from Swarovski.

Jessica was wearing a brooch on her right chest. It was simple yet not exquisite, and the Klein blue color made Jessica’s skin look even fairer. To match the dress, Jessica wore a pair of silver stilettos. She looked elegantly beautiful.

Hannah’s eyes lit up when she saw Jessica “Jess, this dress is perfect for you!”

Hannah knew that Jessica was attending the dinner party tonight, so she took an invitation from Eden to be with Jessica

The guests were all from the upper-class society of LA. Someone might play some tricks against Jessica.

Hannah casually found a dress to wear. The white dress even accentuated Jessica’s beauty,

Hannah didn’t mind being a foil for Jessica, so she directly walked in with Jessica

For this kind of dinner, if socialites wanted to stand out they preferred to wear dresses in bright colors or backless dresses with a V-neck.

The dress Jessica was wearing was not revealing. It was quite simple.

But even so, Jessica still attracted many people’s attention when she walked in.

“Who is this woman? She has a good temperament. She is too suitable for Klein blue!”

“This woman looks familiar. I remember now. It’s Mrs. Thomas. No, it’s the former Mrs. Thomas, Jessica!”

Hannah rolled her eyes at the gossiping women. “Please, you and Lucas have been divorced a long time ago. Why did they still call you Mrs. Thomas?”

Jessica glanced at Hannah and said, “As they wish.”

Olivia had already spotted Jessica when she walked in. Yet Olivia didn’t dare to mess up with Jessica this time.

Yet Bailey somehow said, “Olivia, do you think that’s Jessica? Speaking of which, you apologized to her before, but she still didn’t forgive you?”

Olivia blew up when Bailey mentioned her apologizing to Jessica.

“Don’t mention her!”

Bailey changed a look with Lia. They knew there must have been something. “What happened? Did she patronize you?”

Olivia said angrily, “Are you my friend or not? I don’t want to hear anything about Jessica. Why did you keep mentioning her?”

Bailey hurried to hold Olivia’s shoulders. “Olivia, don’t be angry!

Jessica has gone too far. Tonight is a chance. How about we help you vent your anger?”

Hearing this, Olivia was finally a little interested. “How?”

“Jessica is in the limelight tonight, isn’t she? She’s the only one wearing a Klein blue dress. Why don’t we help her draw more attention?”

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 112

Chapter 112

Olivia looked at Jessica, who was not far away. That Klein blue color was indeed very eye-catching in the crowd. She only glanced over and caught sight of Jessica at once!

The more Olivia thought about it, the angrier she felt. “What do you have in mind?”

Bailey whispered to Olivia, “Don’t worry. Jessica will never trace back to us.” She then raised her eyebrows with contentment.

When Olivia heard that, a vicious look flashed through her eyes. “Good! That’s it! Bailey, go find someone!”

“Olivia, don’t worry. We can’t be blamed for this. I have to find someone who has nothing to do with us!”

Now that Jessica’s identity was different from before, Olivia also knew that she could no longer afford to offend Jessica like before. The few of them lowered their voices and carefully discussed.

On the other side of the venue, Hannah saw Terry coming over. She tossed a meaningful at Jessica. “Jessica, actually, Mr. Davison is quite nice. Why don’t you guys chat a bit more? I won’t disturb you guys. I’m going to have fun!”

With that, Hannah lifted her dress and left.

Jessica looked at Hannah’s back, feeling a bit helpless.

Hannah had just retracted her gaze when Terry walked over.

Terry was wearing a white suit today. He looked handsome with his bright eyes. That was what a gentleman looked like.

“You look stunning tonight.”

Jessica took over the glass of red wine from him and said, “Thank you, Mr. Davison. You look nice tonight, too.”

Terry looked at Jessica and raised his goblet to toast Jessica. “Congrats.”

Terry must be talking about the land Jessica had just won. The other day, Los Angeles was in shock. Yet when Terry learned about it, he didn’t feel surprised at all.

“Thank you.”

Jessica took a sip of the red wine and was surprised.

It was not red wine but grape juice.

Jessica glanced at Terry and met his gaze. Terry’s eyes were deep.

At this time, there was a commotion not far away.

Jessica quickly turned around and saw Lucas and Hari.

When Hari saw Jessica, he clicked his tongue and could not help but bump Lucas' shoulder. "Lucas, look at Jessica."

Lucas acted as if he had not heard what Hari said. He then walked in directly.

Hari raised his eyebrows and added, "She's standing with Terry tonight. The two of them seem to be a good match."

Hearing Hari's words, Lucas finally frowned,

Lucas couldn't help but look at Jessica She was wearing a Klein blue strapless cocktail dress today while Terry was in a white suit. The two of them looked like a perfect match,

But how could Terry be worthy of Jessica?

Lucas retracted his gaze, glanced at Hari, and sneered, "Are you blind?"

"Why am I blind? The two of them standing together are really pleasing to the eye, a handsome man and a pretty woman.

"Just Terry?"

Hari suddenly laughed. "Well, well, well."

Hari looked at Lucas and smiled.

Lucas felt Hari had read his mind. He then retracted his gaze.

Jessica did not want to meet up with Lucas. After seeing him and Hari enter, she consciously walked to the corner.

"Have you recovered from your cold?"

Terry followed Jessica to a corner. Jessica nodded. "Almost."

"Almost means not yet."

As the two were talking, Hannah appeared out of nowhere. "Jess, Jess, come here. I have something to tell you!"

When Terry saw Hannah coming over, he took the initiative to take two steps back and let the two speak.

Jessica looked at Hannah, who was running over and raised her eyebrows.

"Why are you running so fast? Have you been chased by a dog?"

"Don't mind that! Jess, I just heard some big news!"

Jessica took a sip of grape juice and was amused by Hannah. "Let's talk about it after you soothe your breath!"

Hannah got heated. But she was indeed puffing after running all the way along.

Seeing the waiter passing by, Hannah reached out for a random glass of soda and drank half of it before she recovered.

Hannah hurried to tell Jessica what she had overheard. "I was at a corner on the second floor. I saw Bailey talking to Lena Black Bailey asked Lena to wet your dress so that they can trick you into changing the dress they have prepared."

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 113

Chapter 113

Everyone in LA all knew that Bailey, Olivia, and their circle didn't get along with Lena.

To deal with Jessica tonight, Olivia and the others had actually worked with Lena. Jessica felt quite surprised since she was the reason why the old foes became allies, Jessica was also quite amused by their stupidity. Did they really think Jessica couldn't track them down if they found someone irrelevant to play the perpetrator?

Jessica found it funny. "What dress did they prepare?"

When it came to dresses, Hannah was even angrier. "Olivia and the others are 100 vicious. They did something to the dress, and the stitches were all cut. As long as you change into the dress and walk a few steps, the dress will split open! They want you to embarrass yourself here!"

If a dress was cracked at the party, it was more than just embarrassing.

If Jessica did fall into their trap tonight, then the Hall family would be brought up as a joke in the upper-class society

However, Olivia and the others were too naive. How could they think that Jessica would change her dress once it got dirty or wet?

If that happened, Jessica would probably just leave. With a proper excuse, isn't it good to leave and avoid seeing people she didn't like?

"Olivia never learned her lesson, did she? Last time, she had you framed up. Later, she had to apologize in public. Hadn't she had enough of insult?"

The more Hannah thought about it, the angrier she became. She reached out and took two glasses of red wine from the waiter. "I can't let it happen. I'm so angry. I have to teach that little bitch a lesson!"

Jessica reached out and pulled Hannah, "What are you going to do then?"

"I will splash her red wine and scold her! Anyway, there are only a few people who know me tonight, but who doesn't know Miss Thomas?"

"But that's a pyrrhic victory" Jessica raised her eyebrows and looked at Hannah with a sly smile.

"Why are you smiling? It's all for your sake. She's gonna rick you! Why aren't you angry at all?"

Jessica snorted. "What's there to be angry about? It's not worth it to be angry about something that hasn't happened yet."

Hannah calmed down after Jessica stopped her "That's not your style. Tell me, what idea do you have?"

Jessica glanced at Olivia and Bailey, who were coming down from the second floor not far away. She smiled and said, "Since they want me to make a fool of myself so much, I'll give them a chance

It had been quite some time since Hannah last saw such a look on Jessica's face. Last time, when Hannah saw that, the others were insulted hard.

Hannah was also excited. "OK then. I'll sit and watch the show!"

Jessica smiled and whispered into Hannah's ear.

When Hannah heard that, she almost burst out laughing!

Jessica was the smart girl after all.

Hannah left excitedly after hearing Jessica's instructions, and then Terry came over. "Miss Howell seems quite moody. She's happy now?"

Jessica smiled. "That's what she's like."

Terry raised his hand to help Jessica tidy up her hair a bit He did it quite naturally. After he was done, he withdrew his hand as if nothing had happened. “You seem to be a little happier now.”

a smiled “Because there will be a good show later.”

Lucas caught sight of Terry and Jessica.

Lucas looked at the smiles on Terry’s and Jessica’s faces and felt annoyed.

When Hari saw that Lucas did not speak, he could not help but touch the wine glass in Lucas’ hand. “Lucas, what are you looking at?”

As Hari spoke, he followed Lucas’ line of sight. When Hari saw Jessica and Lucas, he raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at Lucas with a gloating look. “Jessica and Terry seem to be having a nice talk.”

Lucas looked at Hari coldly and said, “You’re bored.”

With that, Lucas walked away with his goblet.

Hari snorted. “Just pretend you’re fine!”

Hari took a sip of red wine and couldn’t help but walk over. “Long time no see, Mr. Davison.”

Jessica looked at Hari who was walking over and her smile faded

Hari looked at Jessica and said, “Miss Hall looks very nice today.”

“Thank you.”

Jessica replied politely, “Til leave you talking then.”

As Jessica spoke, she walked away with her goblet.

“Mr. Davison, don’t go yet. I have a question for you.”

Terry looked at Jessica’s back until he could no longer see her. He then looked back at Hari with a faint smile. “What do you want to ask, Mr. Hartley?”

“No biggie. I just wanted to ask how to have so many girlfriends.”

Hari was obviously mocking Terry. Instead of answering Hari’s question, Terry asked, “Did Lucas ask you to come?”

“Hey, I’m the one asking you a question. Why is it related to Lucas”

Terry looked at Hari and smiled without saying a word.

Chapter 114

Han felt a little guilty when Terry gazed at him. At the same time, Terry had lost track of Jessica Terry thought that he couldn't locate Jessica in a short time. He had done what he wanted to do anyway Terry wanted to find an excuse to leave when he heard two screams.

Jessica thought that the show would start later, but she didnt expect them to be so impatient.

The person who splashed Jessica red wine was Lena. Before Jessica could react, Lena had already screamed.

Lena kept apologizing to Jessica. "I'm sorry, Miss Hall. I didnt see it just now! I really didnt see you! I'm sorry, I'm sorry! Your dress I'll take you to change into another dress.

Lena s apology was so sincere that even Jessica was embarrassed to turn her down

Jessica raised her eyebrows and looked at Hannah, who was not far away. She smiled and said, Okay."

Seeing Jessica agree, Lena quickly took Jessica to change her dress.

Along the way, she went on apologizing to Jessica. Lena proved to be a good actress. It was a waste for her not to be an actress.

At the same time, Olivia was also splashed with red wine, and the person who splashed her was Hannah

Olivia saw her dress dripping with red wine, and her face darkened at once.

However, Hannah kept apologizing. Since Jessica had already walked with Lena to get changed, Olivia couldn't lose her temper. Oihewise, people would judge her.

No matter how angry Olivia was, she had to hold her anger back.

Bailey was afraid that Olivia might not be able to hold herself back. Thus, she whispered, "Olivia, Jessica had already gone to get changed with Lena.”

Olivia’s face turned grim when she heard that. She glanced at Hannah, who was still apologizing. “Forget it, forget it. You did not do it on purpose

Olivia was waiting to see Jessica make a fool of herself. She did not want to argue with Hannah anymore. She lifted her dress and hurried to get changed. All she wanted was to see Jessica embarrass herself.

Seeing Olivia and the others off, Hannah couldn’t help but smile, “Now I wonder who’s gonna make a fool of herself.”

Hannah snorted and went to Jessica

At this time, Jessica had already been led to the VIP lounge specially arranged by the Fairbank family. Lena told Jessica to wait for some time before the dress was delivered.

Jessica sat down calmly on the sofa “Thank you, Miss Black:

IS OK I didn’t see you back there! The dress will be here soon, and I won’t disturb you from changing. Miss Hall.”

After saying that Lena left Jessica leaned against the sofa, looking at Lena’s back, and couldn’t help but smile

Someone soon knocked on the door and a waitress came in with a dress.

“Miss Hall, Miss Black prepared this for you.”

Jessica nodded and said, “Thank you.”

The waitress put down the dress and went out. Shortly later, someone knocked on the door again.

Jessica knew that it should be Hannah who came, so she got up and opened the door

The door opened, and as expected, it was Hannah who looked excited “Jessica, hurry up and change your dress. Let’s go down and watch a good show!

Don’t worry, we’ll let them wait

Didn’t Ol

want to laugh at her?

If Jessica didn’t show up, they could only wait.

Hannah was so eager to see Olivia making a fool out of herself that she kept urging Jessica to get changed.

Jessica had no choice but to change into her dress and follow Jessica downstairs.

Olivia and Bailey were already waiting for Jessica downstairs. Seeing Jessica walk down, Olivia was a little excited.

Tonight, Jessica would be a joke!

Jessica was the daughter of the Hall family, but so what?

In the future, everyone would relate to her historic anecdote when mentioning Jessica again.

Olivia watched as Jessica walked down the stairs step by step. Her gaze never left Jessica.

However, the dress had not yet cracked. Olivia got a little heated. She watched as Jessica walked further and further away. The dress was still on Jessica. Olivia frowned. "Are you sure that you have cut the stitches?"

"Of course! I loosened every stitch. It might be because the dress was of such fine quality that it hadn't been cracked. Don't worry, Olivia. You'll see the show later."

Olivia had no choice but to wait when she heard that.

However, after waiting for a few minutes, Olivia still could not see the dress on Jessica split open,

Olivia couldn't help but say, "No, I have to give her a push!"

Bailey was confused, too. Why hadn't Jessica's dress split up yet? It had been minutes!

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 115

Chapter 115

Jessica, who was standing on the other side of the venue, looked at Olivia, who was coming over. She smiled and whispered, "Three, two, one...”

With that, Olivia, who was walking toward Jessica, stopped stiffly.

The back of Olivia’s dress cracked open.

Bailey tried hard to pull the two pieces on Olivia’s back together. Yet the other part split up faster as Bailey pulled it.

With a light snap, Olivia’s dress fell to the ground like a piece of cloth. It happened too fast. Olivia and Bailey didn’t have time to respond. Even Hannah, who had already known what would happen next, didn’t expect the dress to split so instantly.

This scene shocked everyone in the venue. The party suddenly became a mess.

Olivia and Bailey were in a hurry. They hurried to block Olivia.

Yet Olivia’s dress broke into so many pieces. The dress had turned into a bunch of rags. The connection between the waist part and the hem broke at once.

Without the connection, the dress was directly split into two, and the hem fell to the ground.

Though Olivia was quick enough to cover her top, she could only cover the front. Her back was revealed.

No matter how hard Olivia tried, she could only cover her breasts with a piece of cloth in the front. The other parts of her body were all revealed in public.

Bailey reacted quickly. Seeing the cloth on her body fall down, she hurriedly reached out to embrace Olivia Zancy and Lia also came back to their senses. They hurried to surround Olivia.

Despite that, people had already seen what had happened just now.

Olivia embarrassed herself a lot

Olivia was dumbstruck as well. The fool should have been Jessica, but now she somehow became the fool

Bailey reacted the fastest. After sheltering Olivia behind herself, she quickly looked at Lena and said, “Bring us some clothes and towels!”

Lena already had a grudge against Olivia and the others. This time, they had joined forces to deal with Jessica, but that did not mean that Lena didn't hate Olivia anymore.

Now that Olivia embarrassed herself, Lena was also happy

Lena curled her lips and pretended not to hear Bailey.

What could they do to Lena at that time anyway ?

After tonight, Olivia would become the biggest joke in LA. The daughter of Thomas had actually done such a thing on such an occasion. In the past decades, not a single lady had done something so "amazing".

Seeing Olivia and her friends panicking, Hannah almost clapped out of excitement.

Jessica glanced at Hannah and asked, "Are you trying to get us more enemies?"

Hannah put down her hands and did not clap.

The Fairbank family held the party after all. Someone from the family soon noticed what had happened to Olivia and hurried to shelter her with towels and a coat. They then sent Olivia out of the venue.

The people around started to gossip When Olivia left the party and heard talking about her, her face turned grim out of anger

Cafore going upstairs, Olivia could not help but look back at Jessica

Jessica was standing there. She was wearing a new dress,

herained intact

Probably noticing her gaze, Jessica looked at Olivia and smiled.

Seeing Olivia leave in such a hurry, Hannah clicked her tongue and said, "What a wonderful show tonight!"

Jessica also smiled in agreement, "It is indeed a wonderful show."

Olivia cried all the way back to the lounge.

In the banquet hall, after such a big event had just happened, the venue became even more restless.

Everyone had their own opinions regarding the sudden splitting of Olivia's dress.

Their opinions were so incredible that Hannah couldn't help but take out her phone to record them.

Hannah decided that the next time Olivia pissed them off, Hannah would fight back by sending the recording to Olivia.

As soon as Hannah turned on the recording on her phone, she turned around and saw Jessica looking at her with a faint smile.

But Hannah righted herself. “Jessica, Uncle Morgan said that if people do not offend us, we should not offend them. I will not take the initiative to give this recording to Olivia. As long as she does not offend us, nothing will happen.”

Chapter 116

It all happened in an instant. When Lucas had learned about what happened to Olivia, she had already been crying for quite a while in the lounge.

The guests at the banquet today were all celebrities in the upper-class society of LA. They were business partners as well as acquaintances that also met each other at all kinds of parties. Thus, they naturally knew one thing or two about what Miss Thomas was like.

Besides, how could a dress that was worth tens of thousands of dollars get cracked up so thoroughly?

When Lucas heard it from Vincent, his face darkened.

Hari didn't know what to do to help out Olivia, who seemed to be making a fool of herself all the time. Given Lucas' terrible mood, Hari chose to remain silent.

Hari followed Lucas into the lounge.

Olivia had changed into a new dress at this time, but she still had not calmed down. She was still sitting there and crying. She was so embarrassed today.

When Bailey saw Lucas and Hari walk into the lounge, she hurried to say to Olivia, “Olivia, stop crying. Mr. Thomas is here, and he will definitely defend you.”

Olivia looked up and saw Lucas standing in front of her. Her eyes were flooded with tears and she could not see Lucas’ face clearly.

Olivia cried loudly, “Lucas, it was Jessica! Jessica tricked me!”

“What does this have to do with Jessica? Her dress is also cracked up.

Olivia, you’ll have to give us more details about that.” Hari was surprised to hear what Olivia had said.

Olivia wiped her tears. When she couldn’t find any sympathy or concern on Lucas’ face, she felt a bit nervous.

Olivia stammered, “It... It was just a random guess.”

“A random guess?” Lucas snorted and said coldly, “Olivia, don’t think that everyone is as stupid as you. I won’t look into it anymore. I hope you can stop before you’ve gone too far.”

“Mr. Thomas, Olivia is the victim. Even if you don’t comfort her, you shouldn’t scold her, either.” When Bailey saw that Lucas did not intend to deal with Jessica, she was a little dissatisfied and blurted it out in excitement.

Bailey shut her mouth in fear when Lucas tossed a cold glance at her.

“Miss Wade, right?” Lucas looked at Bailey with a deadpan face. “I remember that Mr. Wade’s company is trying to work with the Thomas Group currently, but now it seems unnecessary. Mr. Wade shouldn’t be too occupied in business after all. He doesn’t even have enough time to raise her daughter properly.”

When Bailey heard what Lucas said, her face turned pale with fright. She opened her mouth, trying to say something. But before she could do that, Lucas and Hari had already left.

Olivia, ask for a favor from your brother for me. My dad will beat me to death if he finds out about how the business cooperation ends”

“Don’t look at me, Bailey. I can’t do anything about my brother’s decision.” Olivia thought of Lucas’ stern face and answered with fear

Lucas left the lounge and came alone to the terrace on the third floor of the venue. He lit a cigarette, trying to calm down.

When Lucas learned that Olivia was involved, he could tell what had happened at once Olivia must have tried to lead Jessica into a trap, but in the end, Olivia became the one who got entrapped.

Lucas realized that if Jessica was tricked to wear that dress, then she would be the laughing stock at the banquet.

His company bear the scene of a lot of men seeing Jessica half-naked.

But Lucas and Jessica had already divorced.

Lucas felt a bit helpless. He snuffed out his cigarette, turned around, and was about to go back when he ran into Jessica.

Although Jessica didn't get harmed, she was still angry about Olivia's repeated schemes against her.

So when Jessica saw Lucas, she didn't intend to greet him.

But when Lucas saw Jessica, he greeted her, "Jessica."

"What's your point, Mr. Thomas?" Jessica sneered and looked at Lucas.

Lucas felt a sting in his chest when he saw the vigilance and coldness in Jessica's eyes.

"Are you alright?" Lucas did not expect that he would feel lost for words in front of Jessica.

"I'm alright, but Miss Thomas doesn't seem to be doing too well. I'm not the one you should be concerned about, Mr. Thomas."

Jessica paused a bit before she spoke since she did not expect Lucas to say that.

"You are the author of 'Youth, aren't you?" Lucas did not care about Jessica's sarcasm. Instead, he asked the question he was truly curious about.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia
Chapter 117

Chapter 117

Jessica did not expect Lucas to ask that. She subconsciously denied it.

“No.”

“But that illustration.” Lucas paused, he realized that his previous attitude might have made Jessica get him wrong.

Lucas then softened his tone and went on, “Don’t get me wrong. I’m just saying that the illustration looks similar to the portrait of me you drew.”

“Mr. Thomas, have you read that story? That story is about a 14-year-old schoolgirl falling in love with a high school boy. It had nothing to do with our marriage,” Jessica said calmly.

“Then why are the two pictures so similar?” Lucas asked again.

Jessica raised an eyebrow. She did not expect Lucas to see the subtle similarities in the two pictures. She looked up at Lucas.

Jessica knew that Lucas could see her through once she hedged.

“It’s OK for you to deny it. I’m just asking. Don’t mind me.” Lucas didn’t push Jessica.

“Since you have already had an answer, why did you even bother to ask me?” Jessica somehow got pissed off. With that, she turned to leave.

Jessica didn’t understand. Why couldn’t Lucas talk to her peacefully like this before they got a divorce?

Lucas stood where he was. He saw Jessica leave with anger. Yet somehow, he felt pleased.

Lucas knew that Jessica must be the author of “Youth”.

But Lucas didn’t remember such a girl from school.

Lucas had always been reserved. When he was in high school, not many girls dared to approach him. They all kind of feared Lucas.

Luna was the only exception. She always followed Lucas and Harl

Originally, Lucas didn’t like that tagalong. Yet gradually, Lucas got used to that.

Lucas thought about it and decided to let Vincent look into it.

Jessica was distracted on her way back.

Jessica didn't expect Lucas to care so much about that story she published. She thought Lucas didn't love her and thus couldn't care less about her.

But if that was true, why did Lucas ask her about that so timidly?

Back then, Jessica did love Lucas.

Thus, Jessica wouldn't allow anyone to use her middle school romance against her.

"Jess, what happened?" Hannah asked with concern when she saw Jessica coming back.

"Hannah, Lucas just asked me if I were the author of 'Youth,'" Jessica glanced at Hannah and said.

"How did he know about that?" Hannah's eyes widened. As Jessica's best friend, Hannah knew that Jessica was Cynthia.

Some hooligans once blocked Jessica's way when she was fourteen years old. Jessica fainted after she fought with them. Lucas saved her. After that, Jessica had a secret crush on Lucas. That was why Jessica wrote that story later.

Thus, the protagonist was based on Lucas.

Jessica knew that her love must be unrequited. She never thought that Lucas would respond to her.

Relationships were not like trades. Lucas didn't like Jessica and Jessica had no resentment over that.

"Because of the illustration, he could tell that the two illustrations were drawn by the same person," said Jessica "Hannah, let's go

Like Jessica, Olivia and her friend Bailey also left the venue early. Olivia left because she was too embarrassed to stay while Bailey left after she received a call from her father.

Lucas didn't joke when he said about ending the cooperation.

Olivia returned home early and saw Rebecca in the corridor on the second floor. She did not want Rebecca to question her, so she turned and hid in Lucas' study.

Olivia saw the magazine and the copy of Jessica's sketch on Lucas' desk.

“That’s odd. Why would Lucas read such an old magazine?” Olivia muttered to herself as she flipped open the magazine. Then, she saw “Youth”.

“Why does this illustration look like Jessica’s sketch I found?” Olivia constantly compared the two pictures. She then read the story with curiosity

But soon Olivia felt bored because it was just a story of a young girl having a crush on her senior. She did not understand why Lucas was reading a story like that.

Or perhaps Lucas read it only because the illustration looked like Jessica’s sketch?

An idea flashed into Olivia’s mind and she thus had a plan.

Remarriage His Billionaire Ex-Wife By H. D. Cynthia Chapter 118

Chapter 118

The next day after the banquet, the news of Olivia making a fool of herself at the banquet spread throughout the upper-class society of LA. Justin soon found out about what had happened. As the head of the Thomas family, he could not stand the fact that the Thomas family had become a laughing stock.

Olivia had to face the mockery from those socialites and Justin’s anger at the same time.

“If it doesn’t go off the trending topic, your grandpa would look into it,” Bailey, who was grounded at home, said to Olivia on the phone. Bailey paused for a moment and then continued, “If only something more eye-catching would happen now. Then no one would pay attention to you.”

Olivia, who had hung up the phone, thought about Bailey’s words carefully. Finally, she gritted her teeth and made a call.

Ever since Megan found out about Jessica’s identity, he didn’t pick on Jessica anymore. Thus, Jessica’s work at the LA branch had been quite smooth since then.

When Jessica was about to have a light meal downstairs after her morning work, she suddenly got a call from Terry.

“There is both good news and bad news. Which one do you want to hear first?” Terry chuckled over the phone.

“What is the bad news?” Jessica didn’t fear challenges.

“The bad news is ... I suggest you look at Twitter now,” said Terry.

“Then I’ll tell you what the good news is.”

Jessica raised her eyebrows, turned on her laptop, and logged in to Twitter.

Jessica found that one of the trending topics was about Lucas and her again.

Several influencers retweeted the same post.

The post said that Jessica had known Lucas from high school and had a crush on him since then. The post even logically analyzed the details of their marriage.

In the end, the post came to a conclusion.

That was, Jessica had been secretly obsessed with Lucas for many years and had plotted a scheme to make Lucas marry her.

Lucas never liked such a calculating woman.

The author even added the illustration from the story and Jessica’s sketch to the post as evidence.

Jessica was furious when she saw the story being announced.

Jessica asked Terry on the phone, “What is the good news then?”

“The good news is that I know who is behind this,” Terry replied.

“Really? Who is it?” Jessica asked.

“It’s Lucas.” Terry did not hear Jessica’s voice after he finished speaking.

He paused for a few seconds and asked, “Jessica, are you alright?”

“I’m fine. Thank you for both of the news.” Jessica let out a laugh, then said a few words to Terry before hanging up the phone.

When Terry said that Lucas was behind it, Jessica didn’t believe it at all.

Although Jessica had long been disappointed with Lucas, she could still keenly sense that Lucas hadn't done it.

Hluche wanted to do that, he didn't have to confirm with Jessica at the banquet.'

But Jessica found it strange that Terry said it was Lucas. With Terry's capability, he could find out who the real plotter was.

Jessica couldn't come up with a reason and decided to give it up for now. She then called Wendy.

"Miss Hall, what can I do for you?" Wendy's voice came from the other side of the line.

"There's a trending topic on Twitter about me. Find out who did it," Jessica said calmly.

"Yes, Miss Hall," Wendy tersely replied.

As soon as Jessica hung up, Hannah pushed the door open and entered.

"Jessica, I see you are here." Hannah walked towards Jessica, yet with a guilty look on her face.

Jessica knew Hannah very well, so she looked at Hannah with amusement and said, "Aren't you here to see me? Tell me, what trouble have you caused?"

"Jessica, have you seen the trending topic on Twitter?" Hannah asked after looking for the proper words.

"Of course, what about it?" Jessica looked at Hannah with confusion.

"Here's the thing. I asked Mr. Davison. He said that Lucas did it, so I went to settle the score with him." Hannah's voice got even lower. "Then, I accidentally leaked the fact that you had a crush on Lucas in junior high."

With that, Jessica was lost for words.

Hannah looked at Jessica and said anxiously, "Jess, I didn't do it on purpose!"

"I know." Jessica touched her forehead helplessly and said, "But I don't think Lucas was behind it."

Chapter 119

Hannah was dumbfounded by Jessica's words. She looked at Jessica and asked, "Not Lucas? Then who?"

If Lucas hadn't done that, that meant Hannah had done two things wrong. Yet Hannah decided not to haggle over it. Lucas was unarguably a bastard. He deserved the lesson

Hannah comforted herself that way.

Jessica shook her head slightly. She had an answer in her heart, but before Wendy's investigation results came out, she did not want to say it. Jessica looked at Hannah and sighed. "You're still so impulsive."

"When I heard Mr. Davison say it, I was so angry that I couldn't hold it in for a moment' Hannah also felt that she was a little reckless and stuck out her tongue.

After Hannah left, Vincent could only grimace as he looked at the ornaments that Hannah had broken on the ground. Miss Howell did have a temper,

Lucas sat in front of his desk as if he was unaware of the mess around him.

Lucas was still reviewing Hannah's words just now.

Lucas had always thought that he had met Jessica that night. But according to what Hannah had said, Jessica had had feelings for him for over a decade.

However, Lucas didn't know about it at all.

Had they met before?

He wondered if "Youth' was really based on Jessica's experience.

If Hannah was telling the truth, then Lucas felt that he was indeed a bastard.

After work in the evening, Hannah followed Jessica back to her current apartment. Jessica cooked pasta, and the two of them were eating when Wendy called.

“Miss Hall, I’ve found the plotter,” Wendy said “It is Miss Thomas’
“What? Olivia?” Hannah, who was beside Jessica, heard the voice on the other side of the line She exclaimed before Jessica could say anything.
“Okay, I got it, Wendy.” Jessica hung up the phone She looked at Hannah and said, “That was my first guess, though I don’t know how she got the magazine.”

“I thought she no longer dared to provoke you.” Hannah didn’t see this coming

“Miss Thomas never learned her lessons.” Jessica took a sip of red wine and sighed.

“Jessica, what are you going to do?” Hannah suddenly became excited when she thought of how Olivia had made a fool of herself before.

“I’m going to teach Olivia a lesson,” Jessica said with a smile. She then sent a message to Wendy.

“Help me inform Dwayne. I’m going to visit Mr. Justin Thomas tomorrow.”

When Dwayne received Wendy’s call, he was very surprised Originally, because of his arrogance last time, he blew up the job Justin gave him, Dwayne had always been trembling in fear these days.

“Hello, Mr Dantes. My name is Wendy and I’m Miss Hall’s assistant Wendy’s tone was polite Miss Hall will visit Mr Justi Thomas at eight o’clock tomorrow night.“

Wendy stopped there. She did not ask if Justin had time. She was just informing Dwayne, e wine a ferie dissatisfied, but this time he did not dare to show it

After hanging up, Dwayne immediately went to Justin’s study

“Mr. Thomas, Miss Hall’s assistant just called and said that Miss Hall would visit you tomorrow night. What do you think?”

“Really? Then why don’t you hurry up and contact the chef at the Sheraton Hotel? We should provide a nice dinner for Jessica tomorrow.”

Justin was overjoyed when he heard the news.

Justin, who wanted Jessica and Lucas to get married again, had been looking for a chance to patch things up for them. It was too good a chance to miss.

Justin stood up and paced back and forth in the study. He suddenly stopped and said to Dwayne, “Go and tell Lucas to come back early tomorrow. Also, Olivia, hasn’t she apologized to Jessica yet? Tell her that there will be an honored guest tomorrow. Tell her to dress up properly.”

Because the negative news about Jessica on Twitter was widely spread, people cared less about Olivia, which pleased her quite a lot.

When Olivia returned home, she saw that the servants were busy cleaning up the villa. She couldn’t help but look at Dwayne in confusion. Olivia asked, “Mr. Dantes, what is this sudden house cleaning about?” “Oh, here’s the thing. There will be an honored guest visiting tomorrow. Mr. Thomas is going to invite the chef from Sheraton to cook dinner. Mr. Thomas also said that he would like you to be decked out with your most expensive attire.” Dwayne sent Justin’s message to Olivia.

“An honored guest? Who will that be?” Olivia could not help but ask curiously when she saw how seriously her whole family took the guest. “It’s Miss Hall,” Dwayne replied.

With that. Olivia’s face darkened. Dwayne looked at Olivia and asked, “Miss Thomas, what happened to you?”

“Nothing, nothing. It’s just that I’m not feeling so well now. I’ll go back to my room.” Olivia let out a tight laugh and quickly went upstairs to her room.

Olivia patted her chest with her hand, and after calming down a little, she called Bailey.

“Bailey, Jessica is coming to my home as a guest tomorrow. Do you think she has found out anything?” Olivia asked as soon as she got through the call.

“Did anyone see you when you met Jerry?” Bailey asked after pausing for seconds.

“No, I chose a restaurant which people of our kind won’t choose,” said Olivia as she recalled.

“Then what are you afraid of? Maybe she just wants to beg for forgiveness after reading the harsh comments.”

Olivia thought Bailey made a fair point. She thus felt less worried.

The next day, in the evening, the whole Thomas family were sitting at the table, decked out.

For some reason, Olivia felt a little uneasy. She suddenly didn’t want to meet Jessica.

Justin looked around and asked with a frown, “Where’s Olivia? Why hasn’t she come down yet?”

Dwayne walked down the stairs and walked to Justin. “Miss Thomas said that she was not feeling well and did not want to eat.”

“Tell her that I’ll stop her credit card if she doesn’t come.” Justin was somewhat dissatisfied with Olivia. Was it about eating this evening?

When Olivia reluctantly sat down at the dining table, Jessica and Wendy also walked into the villa.

“Good evening, Mr. Thomas.” Jessica was dressed in a Chanel couture. She looked elegantly beautiful.

“Welcome, Miss Hall.” Justin had a rare smile on his face. He glanced at Dwayne and said, “Tell the chef to serve dishes.”

Jessica had a smile on her face. After she sat down, she glanced at Olivia and smiled. “Miss Thomas, you don’t look well. Didn’t you get enough sleep last night?”

When Olivia heard Jessica calling her, she was so frightened that she knocked her glass over and spilled water everywhere.

“Olivia, why are you so careless?” Justin was very dissatisfied with Olivia’s manners.

L. I’m sorry, grandpa,” Olivia stammered, her face pale.

Alright” Justin waved and said to Olivia, “Didn’t you say you wanted to apologize to Jessica but couldn’t see her? Now you can do Justin made that up. Olivia never wanted to apologize to Jessica after all.

“Im sorry, Jessica. Sorry, it’s Miss Hall. I’ve offended you many times in the past. I hope you can forgive me, “Olivia quickly turned to Jessica and said.

Jessica smiled without saying anything. She first took a sip of the water in her glass, then looked at Olivia and asked, “I wonder what Miss Thomas is apologizing for specifically?”

“Yes, it is for... Olivia didn’t know what to say.

11 Olivia said it was for intending to have someone take photos of Jessica naked, she would be arrested, of Olivia said it was for leading Jessica into a trap at the banquet, Justin would know that Olivia was the plotter,

As for what had happened last night on Twitter, Olivia by no means dared to say that.

Looking at Olivia biting her lips and frowning, Jessica smiled.

“What? Are you suggesting that you haven’t done anything wrong to me? Can’t you even think of one reason to apologize?”

“What do you mean, Miss Hall?” Justin noticed something was wrong. He was somewhat dissatisfied with Jessica’s attitude.

“Doesn’t Mr. Thomas know about the trending topic yesterday?” Jessica turned to look at Justin Justin knew about it. Because Olivia made a fool of herself at the banquet, Justin had been very concerned about public opinion on Twitter these days.

But Justin did not think that Jessica being discredited had anything to do with the Thomas family.

“Unfortunately, my assistant contacted those posters who smeared my name. After I doubled the price, they simply told us the person who hired them.”

Jessica took out her phone and looked at Olivia. “This man is called Jerry. Miss Thomas, do you know him?”
