Let me go, Mr. Hill Author: Shallow South Chapter 2726

Chapter 2726

“It gets weirder the more I investigate it, so I had people go to the US. Reborn first appeared six years ago. It’s said that she only stayed there for half a year and then magically disappeared, she showed up again on Europe’s stock market two years ago. Her methods were similar to before, but she backed out after earning ten billion dollars. She popped up in a few places around the world in these few years, and her movements are irregular.”

Chester squinted his eyes and crossed his arms. “Has anyone seen the real Reborn?”

“I think no one has seen Reborn’s face aside from Della’s team.”

“By the way, you said this was related to Charity just now?” Chester suddenly asked. “Yes,” Ken said. “I’ve checked Bay Hotel, which is the hotel Reborn stayed in when she first appeared six years ago. I spent a lot of money and found something particularly strange. This is the photo saved in the hotel’s security cameras.” He had spent a lot of money to find out that Reborn had previously stayed in Bay Hotel in the US.

Chester shuddered violently after glancing at the photo. He stood up straight away.

The woman in the photo wore sunglasses, but her long black hair, cold lips, and dainty nose still allowed Chester to recognize her with a glance.

He could not forget that person even if he died.

Charity Neeson.

Why would it be Charity?

Why would she appear there?

After a moment, Chester's brain processed it quickly. "Charity used to study abroad in the US. Maybe she just happened to go there to have fun."

"President Jewell, do you know Charity well?" Ken suddenly asked.

Chester was stunned by the question.

Did he know Charity well?

He had always thought he understood her. Afterward, he realized that he actually did not know her well enough.

He had too much prejudice against Charity.

Ken sighed. "President Jewell, I specifically investigated Charity's life while she was studying abroad. She had a double degree and even obtained certifications as a financial risk manager and a certified actuarial analyst in the US. However, she kept a low profile, so many people did not know about that. When she graduated, her mentor personally asked her to stay. Many large-scale companies in Wall street had offered high salaries to her, but she rejected all of them and insisted on coming back to Australia."

Chester's body trembled hard.

Charity was that great.

However, he did not know a thing.

He thought she had simply studied overseas, got a degree certificate, and returned to take over Neeson Corporation.

Chester suddenly realized that he had never tried to get to know Charity properly.

When they were dating, she did not spend much time in front of him. Although she was reserved, she was obedient and always followed his words.

However, he neglected her and did not know that she was actually a very brilliant girl.

He thought he had showered Charity with his sincere feelings before.

However, did he really do that?

If he did, why did he not know her well?

Chester suddenly felt a stuffy and achy feeling in his chest.

He had never felt this kind of pain before.

Ken sighed. "Miss Neeson was a humble person. Her parents didn't like showing off as well, so the public never knew about it."

Ken continued, "If Miss Neeson could obtain the FRM and CAA certifications, she must've been knowledgeable in the finance industry. She happened to be in the hotel where Reborn first appeared as well..." 2

Chapter 2727

Some truths were becoming apparent.

“No.”

However, Chester could not believe it at all. “This is impossible. If charity was really Reborn, what about Eliza? How can Eliza be explained? She doesn’t know a thing about finance, so who’s helping her behind the scenes? Don’t forget that charity... is already dead. If she was Reborn, it means that Reborn is gone too. Della and the other people are Wall Street’s elites. They can’t possibly be following Eliza without a reason.”

“That’s my biggest doubt too.”

Ken continued to flip through the documents below. “But what surprised me more after I kept investigating was that Eliza’s mother has a few estates overseas. It’s worth as much as a few billion dollars. They were all bought two years ago.”

“Isn’t her mother an ordinary housewife in the countryside?”

Chester had even met Eliza’s father before. He was a gambling addict who led a life of pleasure. He abused his ex-wife and kept exploiting Eliza for the sake of the son he had with another woman.

“That’s right. Her mother only completed middle school. She’s still living an ordinary life in a house with two bedrooms in a small town now.” Ken spoke his thoughts, “ I’ve never seen such a puzzling matter.”

<(D . . .

Chester did not as well.

“These houses must be Eliza’s investments overseas using her mother’s name.

However, you suspected that she’s not the real Reborn just now. Then where did she get the money to buy properties worth a few billion dollars? From being a celebrity? Stop kidding. Look at her age.”

Chester shared his analysis. “Adding up Ferra Film Group and Jewell Corporation’s shares, her properties overseas and in Canberra, she must have at least tens of billions of dollars of assets.”

That woman was on his bed some time ago and said that having sex with him did not bring her any money or benefits, she also hinted that he should buy her houses and cars.

As he recalled that, Chester felt as if he was slapped in the face.

F*ck.

Eliza was already so rich, yet she still pretended to be poor in front of him.

No wonder she did not pay him any attention.

Tens of billions of dollars were enough for a person to spend for a few lifetimes.

Even if Chester had more than 100 billion dollars worth of assets, she would probably not care about it anyway.

If it were not for him threatening her, she really would not have had sex with him.

“President Jewell, I think this matter is too strange,” Ken said. “Where did Eliza get so much money two years ago? She wasn’t popular as an actress at that time.”

“Do you think I don’t find it strange too?” Chester supported his head on his hand. “Tell me your thoughts on this.”

Ken stared at the photos. He said, “In my opinion, the Reborn from six years ago definitely wasn’t Eliza, she might’ve been Charity. The Reborn who appeared recently is Eliza. I’m not sure why Eliza is knowledgeable in finance. I just find it strange. A girl who was average in academics in the past became a finance tycoon all of a sudden. It’s too weird.”

Chester snapped his fingers. “Alright. You’ve worked hard during this period. Go back and rest. Leave the documents. I’ll have a look at them later.”

“Okay.”

Ken turned and walked out. When he reached the door, he stopped and hesitated to say something.

“Do you still have something to say?” Chester asked.

“Erm... President Jewell, do you believe there are ghosts in this world?” Ken asked hesitantly.

Chester was taken aback. His face darkened. “What nonsense are you talking about?”

“I think there are many things in this world that can’t be explained by usual logic,” Ken said sheepishly. “Have you seen Eliza’s previous works?”

"I'm not interested in TV shows," Chester said indifferently.

Chapter 2728

Ken nodded. "I'm not interested as well, but I have a niece who's Eliza's hardcore fan. She has watched all of Eliza's dramas and movies. She said that although Eliza is pretty, her acting skills were so-so in the past. After that, her acting skills improved by leaps and bounds as if she was reborn."

Chester frowned. "Didn't Shedrick use to hire teachers to train the artists' acting skills? Of course, her acting skills would get better."

"Maybe." Ken scratched his head. He turned around and left.

Chester sat quietly for a while. He took the topmost document on charity and flipped it open.

[Charity Neeson graduated from Yale University, she obtained a double degree in finance and economics. She participated in the theater club and band during her studies...]

Chester's gaze locked on the words 'theater club'.

Then, he quickly turned on his laptop and hacked into Yale University's university forum.

After typing the year, Chester found content related to the year charity graduated.

His gaze was focused on the screen, and a look of intense shock flashed across his eyes.

The next day, Chester could not complete his work properly.

He got off work early and returned to the cinema room in his villa. He found every film, drama, and commercial from when Eliza debuted.

He started watching from the first one.

Eliza had filmed a historical drama just after she debuted. She played the role of a maid. It was a side character.

In the drama, Eliza's gaze was inexperienced and innocent. She failed to portray the cleverness and liveliness of her character as a maid.

Her acting skills were clearly weak when she was the second female lead in her second drama. There were many scenes where her gaze was unnatural.

During that period, Eliza starred in another film. However, her role was the fourth female lead.

After that, she appeared in another low-budget drama as the female lead.

Chester saw many comments popping on the screen. [The plot is trash. I wouldn't watch it if it weren't for Eliza.]

[I'm watching for Eliza too. I think this is the first time Eliza is acting in a drama. But Eliza's acting skills are really just so-so.]

[The male lead is too pretentious. I don't like him.]

[Eliza used to be so young and inexperienced.]

Chester watched the woman on the screen. Whether it was her actions or gaze, they gave Chester an unfamiliar, strange feeling.

It was as though he did not know that woman at all.

However, he persisted and finished watching 24 episodes of that drama.

When it came to the fourth drama, Eliza's status as a celebrity fell because her acting skills were criticized. She could only play the role of the evil and miserable second female lead in a supernatural drama.

When Eliza appeared in clothes with flowy sleeves, Chester sensed that her gaze and acting skills were like that of a different person.

[Save me! I'm too touched by Eliza's beauty. Her gaze is so soulful.]

[I started to like Eliza because of this drama back then. Although she was despicable in the drama, she was pitiful too. She acted so well.]

[I remember this. I even cried heart – wrenchingly during the ending at the back.]

[I feel like Eliza's acting skills improved after this drama.]

Chester immediately called shedrick.

The first call could not go through, so he tried a second time.

"President Jewell, is there an urgent matter?" Shedrick's sleepy voice rang over the phone.

“Let me ask you this. When the drama ‘ Above the clouds’ was filmed, was a performing arts professor or teacher hired to teach Eliza?” Chester asked in a low voice.

shedrick was in a daze. He rubbed his eyes. He felt like he was not awake yet.
“Wait. You called me at 4:00 a.m. in the morning just to ask about Eliza? Did you not sleep at all?”

Chapter 2729

“Yes. I’m watching the dramas Eliza filmed in the past,” Chester said in a low voice.

Shedrick was speechless.

F*ck.

President Jewell must have been badly tortured by Eliza.

“Answer my question.” Chester became annoyed.

shedrick scratched the back of his head. “ I remember... No. Before taking on that drama, Eliza broke up with Monte and was hospitalized for some time because she had attempted suicide. When the script for ‘ Above the clouds’ reached my hands, I never considered Eliza because her acting skills couldn’t portray a crazy character that was in a love-hate relationship. It was Eliza who went to the director to fight for it. She acted out a section of the script in front of the director. The director thought she did well, so her role was decided on the spot.”

“Does that mean her acting skills suddenly improved after she attempted suicide?” Chester asked in a stern voice.

It might have been Shedrick’s wrong impression.

He kept feeling that Chester was quite agitated. He did not know why Chester was agitated. Chester’s breathing even became heavy.

Was Chester... in need of a woman too much?

“Something like that,” Shedrick said happily. “I asked Eliza about that before too. I asked her why she suddenly got the hang of acting. She said that attempting suicide once was like being reborn once. She did not know the feeling of loving someone until the feelings manifested into hatred and craziness because she had not experienced it before. She understood it after breaking up. I think it was pretty logical after listening to her. In acting, it’s better to have similar experiences to achieve the best acting.

“But the characters she acted afterward didn’t have quite the same personalities. I think she portrayed them well too.”

Chester frowned. “Maybe it’s because the level of her acting skills went up.”

“Ah, maybe it was because she did a lot of acting jobs before and there was guidance from directors on the movie set, so her acting improved.” shedrick was puzzled. “ President Jewell, why are you so fixated on Eliza’s acting? Are you thinking of achieving a breakthrough through this matter to get her into trouble and ruin her reputation?”

u D . . .

Chester’s handsome face immediately turned as dark as the bottom of a pan. “ You’re overthinking. As Eliza’s boss, didn’t you think it felt as if she had become another person after she attempted suicide?”

“Hey, she even attempted suicide, of course, her personality would change drastically. Who wouldn’t change?”

(i » . . .

Chester did not want to talk to that idiot anymore.

He found Hailey's number and called her.

Hailey was Eliza's manager. She would definitely know more than shedrick.

"President Jewell..." Hailey was still asleep too. She was awakened by the call, yet she could not unleash her anger.

"I want to ask you a few questions about Eliza." Chester was straightforward.
"After Eliza attempted suicide and woke up back then, did you sense any changes in her as her personal assistant?"

Hailey was stunned. "Why are you suddenly asking about this— "

"Think closely," Chester interrupted her. " For example, did her personality or hobbies change? Or did the food she likes and her tastes change?"

Hailey was in a daze for a moment. After a while, she said, "When Eliza regained consciousness, her personality was different. Eliza used to be innocent and cute, and she wasn't cunning. She was like a little lamb. After that, she became cold and didn't like to smile. She gave off an icy feeling to people. I was slightly scared at that time. I dared to tell her off in the past, but afterward, I didn't dare to say words that were too harsh after just a glance from her."

"Didn't you find it strange?"

"I did, but Eliza said she had just walked the border between life and death, she was also betrayed by a scumbag and received a substantial shock. She also didn't remember a lot of things."

Hailey slapped her thigh all of a sudden. " When she woke up, she didn't recognize me or her assistant. After that, I told her that I was her manager. She didn't know that she had also signed a contract with Felix Media. I was confused and wanted to look for a doctor to check her head. Eliza told me not to go. She said she had been unconscious for too long, so she wasn't very clear-headed."

Chapter 2730

Chapter 2730

“Is there more? Were there any other abnormalities like her preference for food?”

Chester felt his heart trembling violently.

It trembled to the extent he could not breathe normally.

He had never been this way throughout his entire life.

Hailey started getting confused because of Chester’s words. However, she still recalled her memories seriously. “Eliza used to like to eat sweet stuff a lot, desserts like chocolate cake, milk pudding, and more. I was afraid she would get fat, so I usually had someone keep an eye on her to make her eat less of those. After regaining consciousness, she didn’t really like eating sweet stuff anymore. I had specially bought them for her before, but she didn’t even touch them. She seemed to like spicy food more.”

“Spicy food?”

“Yes. She didn’t like to eat spicy food in the past. After waking up, she often asked her assistant to buy spicy hot dogs for her during every filming. Also, she used to like Spanish cuisine, but she preferred Italian, French, and hotpot afterward.

Hailey got even more alarmed as she spoke. “There’s something else. Eliza used to be less confident in the past. She was cautious whenever she went to movie sets for filming and was afraid of offending others. After that, she was often alone on movie sets and didn’t care about other people’s gazes. She would show up to dinners for a short while if she wanted to go, but no one could persuade her if she didn't want to attend one. No one could see through her intentions. However, I was relieved that her taste in clothes got a lot better after the incident.

"More importantly, her acting skills had improved greatly."

Chester's voice tightened up. "I got it. Thanks."

Hailey was shocked.

What did President Jewell say?

Thank you?

Were those words that would come out of his mouth?

"Remember not to tell anyone else about today's matter, especially Eliza."
President Jewell hung up after giving a cold reminder.

Hailey was confused.

Why did President Jewell call her?

Was he suspecting that Eliza had been possessed by a ghost?

Hailey shuddered.

She had better not think nonsense in the middle of the night and go to sleep.

She quickly pulled her blanket up to cover her face.

On the other hand, Chester could not fall asleep.

It was understandable that attempting suicide would change a person's personality drastically.

However, would it change a person's interests, hobbies, and even eating habits?

Would a person's fashion sense be better?

Would their acting skills improve too?

An unthinkable thought was forming in Chester's head.

However, it was difficult to believe.

Yet, all suspicious evidence was presented in front of him.

Other people would not know about it, but he remembered.

When he dated Charity, she preferred spicier food. She liked to eat things like spicy hot dogs and spicy fried chicken, but he disliked them because they were unhealthy.

Charity particularly loved Italian food. She liked French cuisine too. When they went to a French restaurant for the first time...

A thought flashed across Chester's mind. He almost slid from the sofa to the floor.

It was because he remembered him asking Eliza out for a meal after Jewell Corporation's shareholder meeting previously.

What did Eliza order at that time? She had said, "Give President Jewell a serving of black truffle lamb chop, smoked salmon, and foie gras bread pudding."

After that, she looked at him and mocked him for not remembering anything.

By not remembering, did she mean...

It was as though Chester's head exploded. He wanted to light a cigarette but realized his hands were trembling violently.

He could not pick up the box of cigarettes at all.

When he finally managed to inhale a mouthful of smoke as he trembled, he could no longer continue sitting. He grabbed his car keys and went out without changing out of his pajamas.

6:00 a.m., at the Hill family's manor.

Shaun crept to adjust his wife's blanket. Then, he got down from the bed carefully.

There was a lawsuit that day. He had to drive and rush to the local court before 9:00 a.m.

Just as his car exited the manor's gates, he noticed a familiar sports car parked by the roadside. Chester wore a set of dark blue pajamas and was leaning against the car door. He had a pair of gray slippers on his feet and a ring of stubble around his mouth. 2
