Chapter 4783

Elaine returned to the Presidential Suite of the Hilton Hotel,

And the first sentence when he entered the door was to ask Claire and Charlie:

“Claire, good son-in-law, do you two have anything to do tomorrow night?”

Claire asked curiously, “What’s the matter, Mom?”

At this question, Elaine explained: “I have a very good sister in the Rampage team.”

“She said that she wanted to invite our family of three to be guests at her house.”

“This sister came from China, they have been living for many years in the United States,”

“And I haven’t made a few close friends. I finally met a close friend who I can talk to in all aspects.”

“As I will be leaving soon, so I will go to her house for a meal before leaving.”

Claire asked in surprise: “Mom... can you still find a good friend you can talk to?”

Elaine pouted: “Oh, look at what you said, don’t you think?”

“Don’t you have any friends? Then your Aunt Zhao, your Aunt Sun, and your Aunt Liu,”

“Don’t they all have a good relationship with me?”

Claire asked embarrassingly: “Do they have a good relationship with you? How can I remember?”

“It seems that you guys often play mahjong together and go to the beauty salon together,”

“And then you broke up for no reason.”

Elaine was a little embarrassed for a moment, and waved her hand in a hurry:

“Those are old calendars, don’t mention it!”

Actually, the reason why Elaine’s friends broke up was that after she stole Charlie’s bank card,

And transferred the money, and she felt that she was suddenly rich, and she instantly looked down on those old sisters of hers.

At that time, Elaine broke up with them on the phone, but unexpectedly,

After that incident, she went to the detention center and experienced life inside the high wall for a few days.

Elaine, for a long time, can be said to be the perfect example of the Chinese shrew.

The first is she is extreme snobbery, whoever has money is her father,

Regardless of whether the money can be spent on her or not, she will kneel and lick it first.

She has been following Mrs. Willson and Horiyah's b u t t s for so many years in various ways,

And in the first three years of Charlie and Claire's marriage,

She has always wanted Claire to divorce Charlie and marry another rich man.

This is the best portrayal of her character.

In addition, Elaine's mind is extremely narrow-minded and interest-driven.

Therefore, she really hasn't made any close friends.

Although Claire is not extremely smart, she naturally knows her mother very well,

And she always feels that a person like her has nothing to do with concepts like the bosom friend.

At this time, Elaine also knew why her daughter questioned her, so she said unnaturally:

"Claire, you can't look at your mother like you used to,"

"You have to look at your mother from a developmental perspective."

"It's so easy to get along, whether it's with those friends or with Charlie,"

"It's not so pleasant to get along with, but don't you think that mother is in a process of getting better now?"

Elaine was a little excited as she continued: "You said it yourself,"

“What is my attitude towards Charlie now? That’s why I can’t wait to dig my heart out!”

Claire saw that her mother was a little excited, and nodded quickly and said,

“Mom, you are right, it’s my eyes that don’t see your development...”

After that, she quickly changed the subject and asked,

“By the way, mom, what does that sister of yours do?”

Elaine hurriedly said: “She immigrated with her son and daughters-in-law,”

Then, Elaine explained: “By the way, your sister and mother are from the hometown folks!”

“Her hometown is not far from your grandmother’s house,”

Claire nodded and said: “Mom, I don’t know Charlie and this aunt.”

“It’s not appropriate to rashly visit someone’s house, and you know Charlie’s character.”

“He is not so social, or you can go by yourself. “

How about that...”

Chapter 4784

Elaine said solemnly: “Mom has already told you that this is a family gathering.”

“The older generation will know each other, and the younger generation,”

“Will also get to know each other.”

Speaking, Elaine said very solemnly: “You two can’t say anything about this kind of thing, and you can’t let Mom go back!”

Claire looked at Charlie and asked, “Husband, what do you think...”

Charlie smiled slightly: “Since Mom has already made the arrangements, it is really inappropriate for us not to go.”

Elaine hurriedly said nodding as she blurted out:

“It’s still my good son-in-law who saves mom’s face at the critical moment!”

After that, she hit the iron while it was hot:

“Then this matter is settled, tomorrow afternoon at six o’clock, let’s go together,”

“Claire, you will take your class as normal tomorrow, my good son-in-law will go buy some gifts with me,”

“It’s our first time to visit someone’s house, it’s not good to go empty-handed.”

Claire saw that Charlie agreed, so it was not good to make further excuses.

What else to say, so she nodded and said, "That's fine."

The next afternoon.

Elaine called Charlie and drove around downtown Providence.

Elaine went to many gift shops, and finally, at the suggestion of Charlie,

Bought a set of exquisite tableware worth several hundred dollars as a souvenir.

Charlie felt that when visiting the house as an ordinary friend,

The gift must not be too expensive, otherwise, it would appear less pure.

Elaine also knew that at first glance, Myren's family was a wealthy family,

And she was definitely not the one who lacked money,

So it was not so important for things to be expensive or cheap, and the main thing was her heart.

At half past five, the two picked up Claire at the gate of the school,

And then Charlie drove to the community where the other party lived,

According to the positioning sent to Elaine by the other party.

The destination is about a dozen kilometers away from the city center,

But the road conditions are very good, so the drive is very fast, and the whole journey took about 20 minutes.

This community is in Providence, a very high-end one.

The buildings in the entire community are very sparse,

And the building's appearance, greenery, and roads are very well maintained.

In addition, police cars on duty are parked on the main road points of entry and exits.

In the United States, the strength of the community that can be protected by the police on duty is extraordinary,

Because police duty is not free, on the contrary, the cost is very high,

So high that an average community simply cannot afford it.

According to the navigation, Charlie parked the car in front of a very elegant three-story villa.

At this time, the door inside the low fence opened, and a woman of the same age as Elaine,

That is, Myren Chen, who was very speculative with Elaine, greeted them from the door.

Seeing Elaine, Myren said very happily: "Oh Elaine, you've come!"

After that, she saw Charlie and Claire also get out of the car, and said with a smile:

“These two must be your daughter and son-in-law? Welcome, come and sit in the room!”

Myren’s enthusiasm made Charlie feel that she was a little deliberate.

But he didn’t think much about it. After Elaine had a few words with the other party,

She and Claire followed her into the villa.

Myren warmly invited Charlie’s family of three into the house.

At this time, in the living room, one could already smell the aroma of the food.

The interior decoration of the villa is very elegant.
