Chapter 1919

Chad rolled his eyes at Mike: "Can you stop talking nonsense in front of the children? It's about to eat, who are you trying to answer."

Mike immediately covered his mouth.

"Uncle Chad, my brother and I are not three-year-olds." Layla reminded Chad. "This old woman killed my grandmother. My brother said he would seek revenge from her. I believe my brother will definitely be able to avenge my grandmother."

Mike: "Don't worry! This old woman won't be happy for long."

Chad took a deep breath: "Is it appropriate for you to talk about this kind of topic in front of Robert? Aren't you afraid of planting seeds of hatred in Robert's young heart? This is not conducive to his physical and mental development..."

Robert blinked his clear eyes: "Uncle Chad, don't be afraid...I don't understand what you are talking about."

Chad: "..."

Robert didn't even know who her grandmother was. After all, she hadn't met, and even if she heard her sister talk about it, she didn't have an impression.

Yonroeville.

After Avery changed her clothes, she went to the hotel restaurant with Elliot to eat something.

"Eat so little?" Elliot had a good appetite. Seeing that she ate so little, he was afraid that she would be hungry soon.

The location of the corpse pit was relatively remote, and it was estimated that there were no decent restaurants around.

"I can't eat it anymore." Avery wiped her mouth with a tissue.

Elliot asked the bodyguard to pack some desserts to take on the road.

Avery said, "I'm a little dizzy. I'm afraid I'll get motion sickness later, so I don't dare to eat more. You don't need to bring me food."

“Since you’re not feeling well, then you won’t go today.” Elliot replied, “We’re not going either. We’ll go together tomorrow.”

“Don’t...” Avery saw that Elliot had finished eating, she got up from her chair, “Let’s go now! Go now, we’ll be back before dark.”

Elliot: “Why do you have to go now? You know you are not feeling well, so...”

“I just want to go.” Avery interrupted him, “If you don’t go now, you will lose sleep at the hotel.”

Elliot wanted to say, ‘I’m afraid that if you go to the corpse pit and watch it back, you will not only lose sleep but also have a headache.’

The group came out of the hotel and got into the car heading for the suburbs.

Avery leaned in the seat and planned to take a nap, but not long after closing her eyes, she suddenly remembered something.

“Isn’t that criminal gang taken over three years ago? Why is this corpse pit bursting out now?”

Elliot: “That gang was basically executed, but some accomplices were left out. This corpse pit is s An accomplice was exposed to mitigate the crime.”

Avery nodded: “Is it possible for this person to know Haze’s whereabouts?”

“Let’s find this person when we return from the corpse pit!” Elliot glanced at the time, “If I have time at night, I’ll go find out where this person is locked up. If I don’t have time, I’ll find her tomorrow.”

“Don’t think too much, just close your eyes and rest for a while. I’ll call you.” Elliot’s voice seemed to have a hypnotic effect.

Avery closed her eyes and fell asleep shortly after.

Elliot looked at her peaceful sleeping face and wished that time would stand still at this moment.

Avery has no boyfriend, only Elliot by her side. She would not ridicule him, and their relationship was peaceful and beautiful.

After the car arrived in the suburbs, Elliot wanted her to continue resting. But not long after the car stopped, she woke up from her sleep.

"Are you there?" Avery rubbed her eyes.

Chapter 1920

"Well. Just arrived." Elliot took a bottle of water, unscrewed the cap, and handed it to Avery.

Avery took the water bottle and took a sip.

"Do you want to eat something first?" Elliot handed the dessert to her, "I'm afraid you won't be able to eat it at night."

Avery shook her head, opened the door, and got out of the car.

After getting off the bus, walk forward for a short distance, and she can see the fenced cordon. Inside the cordon, there are many staff members who are busy.

The location of the corpse pit was the cellar of a dilapidated brick house.

This cellar was originally used to store food, but it was turned into a corpse pit by a criminal gang!

Today, the brick and tile house was in dire straits, and the surrounding weeds were overgrown with one-person-high weeds, and on the ground, there were either complete or incomplete bones.

Avery stood at the cordon, watching the scene in front of her, her eyes couldn't help but get wet.

Thinking that Haze might be buried here, mixed with so many bones, and what kind of torture she suffered before her death, her heart was in unbearable pain!

After negotiating with the staff who maintained the order, Elliot walked to Avery, took her hand, and crossed the cordon.

"Stop crying. Our daughter is not necessarily here." Elliot took out a tissue and handed it to Avery.

Avery took the tissue, wiped away her tears, and strode towards the corpse pit.

After approaching, a rotten smell mixed with mildew penetrated into the limbs and bones, making people dizzy.

Elliot didn't expect it to be so stinky, and immediately pulled Avery back.

“You need to wear masks.” A staff member handed them masks, “If you go into the pit, you have to wear protective clothing. It’s one thing to smell inside, and more importantly, I don’t know how many bacteria and viruses there are...”

Elliot put the mask on Avery, and then quickly put it on himself.

Although wearing a mask, the stinky smell still lingers.

Avery walked to the corpse pit and glanced down—the mosquitoes were flying around, and the dense white bones were faintly visible.

Avery made a ‘vomit’, and immediately took off her mask, and spit out all the water she just drank.

Seeing this, Elliot immediately handed Avery a tissue: “The situation here is much worse than expected. I told you to come and help take out the bones before, but now it seems...”

“I’m fine.” Avery wiped it with a tissue After drying the water stains on the corners of her mouth, she quickly put on her mask, “I didn’t wear protective clothing today, come back tomorrow.”

“Then let’s go back first!” Elliot looked at her pale, as if she was about to faint at any moment.

When Avery was helped away by Elliot, she couldn’t help looking back at the corpse pit.

For some reason, Avery always felt that Haze was in that corpse pit.

Back at the hotel, her face was dark blue, as if she had suffered a serious illness.

Elliot helped her to sit by the bed and wanted her to lie down and rest, but she sat stiffly.

“Avery, calm down.” Elliot squatted in front of her and looked into her eyes, “Our daughter is not necessarily in that corpse pit.”

“Even if our daughter is not there, the bones there are all alive. The life of her.” Avery choked, “Even if our daughter is still alive, she doesn’t know what kind of ordeal she is going through now...”

“Don’t think about it!” Elliot was heartbroken, “It’s all my fault! I failed to protect her!”

“Elliot, stop talking! I didn’t recognize my own child, and I can’t blame anyone!” Avery burst into tears When she fell, she pushed him away with her palm, “I want to be alone! You let me be quiet!”

Elliot looked at the tears on her face, and pursed her thin lips tightly. He walked out of the room, closed the door gently, then stood at the door without leaving.

After a while, Elliot heard her cry from the room.
